Street & Wright Start Cement Road

ROAD SOUTH PAST CE- MENT PLANT WILL BE COM- PLETED BY THIS FALL

Primary work on the C. W. road and others paved road, from Limestone intersection south past Star Cement plant to the ship line, has been started by Street & Wright, contractors, who awarded the contract for this on their bid of $24,250.

Grading and other preliminary work got underway this week and of concrete will start soon.

One of the major changes to be corner. A broad cement apron connect the new road with the paved Manhattan road.

Slight changes will be made

Plane Passes 400th Hour Aloft

ENTER BROTHERS HOPE TO ESTABLISH NEW ENDUR- ANCE RECORD

CHICAGO, June 28 (UP)—Man-machine gave signs of weakening
as the endurance airplane of Chicago passed its 400th hour of continuous flight and sailed toward the world record of slightly more than 420 hours set last year
by the "St. Louis Robin."

At 8:40 a. m., the "City of Chicago" just 20 hours, 21 minutes and seconds from the Robin's record. But to break that mark the Brosnans will have to remain in the air at least another hour. They stay up several more days.

Heartened by completing another 24 hours the Hunters, Kenneth and John, took on another load of gasoline and oil and flew on.

The first complaint came from Kenneth who dropped a note saying "I've a tooth ache. Wish I could p. r. ate down and get back before we break the record but I'll stick it out till the plane was listing but its motor seemed to be functioning smoothly.

FILLMORE BANKER TAKES TIME TO WRITE BOOK

A. W. Inman Writes Splendid Book On Primitive Christianity. Book Is Distributed.

A. W. Inman, cashier of the Fillmore bank, in addition to his duties there, has found time to write an interesting book under the title of "A Chronological Survey of Primitive Christianity." The book is off the press and is being widely distributed.

Mr. Inman is a graduate of the Indiana State Normal School; Indiana University, with the A. B. degree, and has advanced training in the University of Chicago and the University of Illinois. He is a licensed minister in the United Brethren Church, but has devoted much of his time to other lines, including teaching and Bible school work.

In speaking of the book, Dr. H. B.
Gough, of DePauw University says:
"In my judgment, he has prepared a narrative characterized with sincerity, simplicity and unity. His primary aim is coherence. That end, it seems to me, he has attained through his correlation of the data the fragmentary gospels give. Such a treatment, abundantly provided with references, should be helpful to all who desire a coherent arrangement of the New Testament story."

TWO NEGROES GUARDED FROM ANGRY MOBS

TROUBLE BREWS IN TEXAS AND NORTH CAROLINA AFTER AT- TACKS ON WHITE WOMEN

TEAR BOMBS DISPERSE TEXANS

Strong Guard Of State Troopers Is Thrown Around Negroes In North Carolina Jail

BEAUMONT, Tex., June 28 (UP)— Tear bombs were used to disperse a mob of 400 or 500 men who surrounded the county jail here early today
in an attempt to lynch a negro accused of attacking several white wo-

The mob came from Port Arthur, where the negro, Rainey Phillips, was arrested yesterday. The negro was brought here last night by officers who saved him from death by fighting their way through a crowd of men who surrounded the Port Arthur jail
soon after his arrest.

The crowd of any men and boys arrived here by automobile to find Sheriff Walter W. Covington prepared for them. Machine guns had been mounted at vantage points surrounding the jail, and deputies had been armed with automatic rifles.

Sheriff Covington stood in the jail
door and tried to pacify the mob.

He was seized, and the mob announced the intention of holding him as hostage until the negro was released to them.

That was the signal for deputy sheriffs inside the jail to throw tear bombs at the men. The mob dispersed, leaving the sheriff behind.

The negro was arrested in Port Arthur and was identified as the man who attacked a white woman.

The negro confessed to attacking eight white women in the vicinity of Port Arthur within the last month.

CONCORD, N. C., June 28 (UP)—

Seven frightened negroes huddled in cells of the Cabarrus county jail today, temporarily safe from a mob that shortly after midnight threw rocks through windows, and threatened to lynch the prisoners.

The negroes were arrested as suspects in connection with an attack on a 15-year old white girl last Friday.

At 6 a. m. today all but a scattered few of the 400 men who formed the mob, had dispersed. A national guard company was on duty and was given authority to call out additional troops if necessary.

M. E. CHURCH BOARD FACES $2,000 SUIT

ALFRED GRINDLE, ARCHITECT, ALLEGES FEE HAS NOT BEEN PAID IN FULL

SUIT FILED FRIDAY P. M.

Alleges Only $7,000 Of Total Fee
Is Paid. Employed
In 1926

A demand of $2,000 is made by Alfred Grindle, architect, in a suit
on contract filed in the Putnam circuit court Friday afternoon against the Methodist Episcopal church of Greencastle, and J. P. Allen, Jr., J.
E. McCarty, W. M. Blanchard, Frank
Donner, A. G. Brown, F. L. O'Hair,
B. T. Riley, J. E. Courtney and Ralph Howard, constituting the Board of Trustees of the church.

Bevington Williams, Incorporated,
is made a party plaintiff in the suit to protect its interest, inasmuch as Grindle says he has assigned $1,000 of the sum alleged due from the church board, to this concern.

In his complaint, filed by James & Allee, local attorneys, Grindle alleges that on November 6, 1926, he was employed by the church board to draw plans for a new Methodist Episcopal church and a new religious Education Building, his commission to be 3 per cent of the total cost of the two buildings, provided he was not employed to supervise the construction. He was to receive 1 per cent commission for supervising construction, but was not employed to do this, he says.

Grindle alleges that a contract later was let for the church for $189, 497, and that the estimated cost of the Religious Education Building was $103,500, but that a contract was never let for the latter building. The plaintiff alleges that his contract provided that his fee should be due one year after plans were submitted or the building for which no building contract was let.

Total estimated cost of the two buildings was $292,997, which would entitle him to a fee of $8,789.91, Grindle alleges. Of this sum the architect says he received $7,000 leaving an unpaid balance of $1,789.
91, interest on which up to July 1,
1930, would be an additional $161.09

A total demand of $2,000 is made by the architect. September 22 has been fixed as a date for the defendants to file an answer to the complaint in the local court.

Three Bodies Found In T. H.

MRS. RANEY, HOUSEKEEPER, OF ONE VICTIM, BELIEVED TO HAVE DONE THE SHOOTING

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 28—
(UP)—Three bodies, each with a single bullet hole through the forehead, were found in an apartment above a grocery store here this morning by Alice Oakley, 15, daughter of one of the shooting victims.

The body of Wesley N. Oakley, 55, storekeeper, was found in his room in his apartment above the store. The bodies of Clara Raney, 28, Oakley's housekeeper, and her six-year old son, Carl, were found in an adjoining room. A .32 calibre automatic revolver was held in Mrs. Raney's hand.

Police expressed a belief that the shooting was done by Mrs. Raney because Oakley was to discharge her today after two years as his housekeeper. It was reported that the housekeeper became angered at Oakley's daughter last week and threw a heavy lead weight at her.

The door of Mrs. Raney's room was locked from the inside and the body of she and her son were not found until the arrival of police.

HOOPER WINS

WASHINGTON, June 28 (UP)—
President Hoover won another point in his contest with Congress over World War Veterans' legislation today when the Senate finance committee reported the house compromise pension bill to the Senate without a major change.

The bill will not be taken up by the Senate until Monday.

The decision of the committee was unanimous after the more liberal Walsh-Connally bill had been defeated on a roll call, 11 to 8. Advocate of the more liberal measure announced they intend to make another fight against the so-called Hoover bill when it is brought to the floor of the ser-ate Monday for debate.

HIRT-THOMAS CASE ENDED AT DANVILLE

$2,478.67 JUDGMENT AWARDED MR. HIRT. MR. THOMAS WITHDREW ACTION

ORIGINALLY SOUGHT $10,000

Case Has Been Pending For Some Time And Was Outgrowth Of Former Partnership

The suit of Fred Thomas against Andrew Hirt for an accounting of a former partnership, amounting to about $10,000, was settled in the Hendricks circuit court at Danville
Saturday morning, when Thomas withdrew his suit and Mr. Hirt was given a judgment against Thomas for the sum of $2,478.67. Thomas withdrew his complaint after James & Allee and Otis Gulley, representing him, withdrew from the case.

In his complaint, Mr. Thomas alleged the affairs of the partnership were not settled and that Hirt owed him the amount sought. The suit was filed here, but was venued to Danville some time ago and has been up for trial at different times, but each time was delayed through motions filed by Thomas.

Train Buried By Avalanche

15 PERSONS BELIEVED LOST IN JAPANESE RAILROAD DIS- ASTER NEAR TOKIO

TOKIO, June 28 (UP)—An avalanche descended on a passenger train traveling through the Yamanouchi prefecture and buried more than 15 persons under a mountain of dirt and stone, reports received here today said.

It was not known whether any of those entombed were still alive but rescue work was proceeding swiftly
in the hope that boulders had formed sufficiently large air pockets to enable the victims, if still alive, to breathe, the reports said.

Two of the railway coaches were wrecked by the avalanche which descended without warning.

Golf Tourney At Northwood

18-HOLE MATCH TO DECIDE THE CHAMPION OF NORTHWOOD GOLF LINKS

Tomorrow, approximately thirty golfers will tee off in the 18-hole tournament for the championship of the Northwood golf course. Each player will shoot from "scratch" and scores of the two rounds will be used in preparing handicaps for the remainder of the season and for future tournaments.

According to W. E. Search, manager of the links, a number of special matches are planned for the summer at the Northwood course. It is also hoped to have a tournament with the Country Club golfers. A match with the Country Club linksmen was held last year and the Northwood players came out decidedly on the short end of the score and they are out for revenge this season.

For tomorrow's tournament, players are asked to turn in their cards
after each round at the shelter house
at the Northwood course.

A. R. ROTH NEW ROTARY PRESIDENT

CALIFORNIAN ELECTED AT CLOSING OF INTERNATIONAL MEETING IN CHICAGO

CONVENTION CLOSED FRIDAY

With Announcement Of The Election,
Delegates Begin Trips Back
To Their Home Towns

CHICAGO, Ill., June 28—Almon E.
Roth, of Palo Alto, Calif., was elected president of Rotary International at the closing session of the twenty-fifth international convention on Friday. He won over Raymond J. Knoep-fel, of New York, the vote being 2216
to 1119.

Hardly had the election been announced than the thousands of delegates and visitors from sixty-two nations began their homeward treks, the silver jubilee anniversary of the Rotary having passed.

Directors and the new president will elect vice presidents. Roth is 46 years old and is business manager of Stanford university.

The Palo Alto club named him
president in 1925-26 and in the following two years he served as district governor. He has been a director and second vice president of Rotary International and a member of its community service committee.

Internationalism as achieved through mutual understanding of international problems was the keynote of the gathering which heard three world famous speakers: Sir Henry Worth Thornton, Canadian railway executive; Prince Iyesato Tokugawa, president of Japanese House of Peers, and Admiral Mark Kerr, retired of the royal British navy.

In his address Friday Admiral Kerr said he believed the United States could stop wars by refusing to treat in anyway with a nation which declined to arbitrate difficulties with another country.

"The eleventh commandment," he said, "should be 'Thou Shalt Not Go to War.'"

Special trains, automobiles and airplanes were utilized last night to speed delegates to their homes.

The Latin American and European delegations will leave during the day
for New York, the Latin Americans sailing July 9.

International directors elected are:
Will Taylor, Springfield, Ill., Clinton
P. Anderson, Albuquerque, N. M., Claybrook Cottingham, Pineville, La.,
Richard C. Hedke, Detroit, Mich.,
Howard W. Selby, West Palm Beach,
Fla., Arthur Chadwick, of London;
Theodore A. Forgeson, of Estavay,
Canada; Dr. Luis A. Chavez Velande
of Lima, Peru; William de Cook Bunning of The Hague, Netherlands, and Smith L. P. Free of Masterson, New Zealand.

Austrian delegates presented Chicago Rotarians with a flag in inviting the convention to Vienna for 1931 and New York's delegation contributed a statue to the local group.

Boston, Mass., and Havana are campaigning for the 1932 meeting of the international body, the site for which will be named next spring by the board of directors.

HOOVER LAW COMMISSION TO CONTINUE

PRESIDENT QUIETLY SEEKS TO RAISE EXPENSE FUND FOR FURTHER CRIME STUDY

CONGRESS ORDERED FUND CUT

Mr. Hoover Communicates With Several Wealthy Men And Women
To Secure Needed Capital

WASHINGTON, June 28 (UP)—
President Hoover started work quietly today to raise a $100,000 unofficial fund to substitute for the appropriations which Congress denied to his law enforcement commission.

The President is communicating,
the United Press learned from an authoritative source, with a number of wealthy men and women who recently informed him they would be glad to contribute for such a purpose.

There is no hurry about raising the money as the commission has nearly $120,000 including the $50,000 carried in the pending second deficiency appropriation bill and $70,000 left over from its $250,000 expense fund provided by Congress for the fiscal year ending June 30.

The President's vigorous statement
refusing to abide by the Senate's decision to limit the commission's fund
met with no response in Congress, where final action already has been taken on the second deficiency bill including the commission's appropriation.

Mr. Hoover stated Chairman Wickersham informed him that the work of the commission would go forward without hindrance. When it will make its report is still problematical.

It has employed a number of social workers and crime experts who are investigating conditions in various sections of the country. It is conducting a questionnaire of crime conditions and has more than 50 employees on its payroll. Twelve subcommittees are at work, going into all phases of the causes of crime and law enforcement problems.

It made a preliminary report last winter recommending eight or ten bills to Congress, of which only two have been passed.

One transfers prohibition enforcement from the Treasury to the Justice Department and the other increases appropriations for Federal prisons.

In his statement issued soon after the Senate voted 35 to 30 to cut the commission appropriation, Mr. Hoover stressed the necessity for investigating matters other than prohibition law violations.

"There can be no doubt that more vigorous enforcement of the laws has had something to do with the Federal situation," Mr. Hoover continued.

"With growing crimes of all kind and with insistent recommendations from every bar association and public body concerned that we should have an accurate study of the reforms necessary in our judicial and administrative machinery, that we should have some constructive program for decrease and control of crime as a whole, I cannot abandon the question for one moment or allow the work of this commission to cease."

the Bible are some of the things for which he searches.

FILE PLEA IN ABATEMENT IN NICHOLAS DAMAGE SUITS

Special pleas in abatement have been entered by attorneys Emmett S. Huggins, W. D. Hardy and C. C. Gillen for the defendants, Joe Guestling and Leo Geutling, in the damage suits of Pearl Nicholas and Howard R. Nicholas of Greencastle, against them in the Putnam circuit court.

The attorneys also entered pleas of abatement for each of the defendants Edwin Kasper, Lewis G. Martin and Jesse T. McClellan.

The pleas ask that action against the defendants be abated on grounds that all of them are residents of Vanderburgh and Pike counties, and that none of them reside in Putnam county, and that action against them in this county is illegal.

The damage suits here, one for $5,000 and another for $1,500, grew out of a collision on the National Road, May 26, in which cars occupied by all the parties were damaged.

Lesson for June 29

REVIEW: THE GOSPEL OF THE KINGDOM CONTINUED

GOLDEN TEXT—Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Making Jesus Known.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Believing in Jesus.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Shall I do with Jesus?
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Meaning of Christian Discipleship.

The plan of review must always be determined by the teacher in the light of the grade of the school and the aptitudes of the pupils. For senior and adult classes the best method will be to recall that all the lessons of the quarter are from the book of Matthew, which has as its theme Jesus Christ, the Messianic King, and His Kingdom, and to present each lesson in its relation to this central purpose. The lessons have a threefold unity, namely, one book, one theme, one person.

Lesson for April 6. To prepare the disciples for the dark hour of the cross, Jesus sought to lead them to a clear apprehension of His purpose and mission. After Peter's confession of Him as the Messiah, Jesus showed to the disciples that He must come into His place of triumph through the tragedy of the cross.

Lesson for April 13. The greatest in the kingdom are those who possess childlike humility. The condition of entrance into the kingdom is true conversion, or birth from above.

Lesson for April 20. In this lesson we have divine instruction as to behavior in case of ill-treatment. Those who are Christlike shall suffer persecution. Those who have entered the kingdom by birth from above—those who have received forgiveness from God—will forgive their fellows.

Lesson for April 27. Riches are deceitful. Possessors thereof are prone to put their trust in them. It is most difficult for those who are rich to give place to spiritual things.

Lesson for May 4. Those who would be greatest in the kingdom should, like Christ the King, take the place of self-abasement. In love, Christ gave Himself for others. He substituted "the greatness of love for the love of greatness."

Lesson for May 11. To the nation which rejected Jesus as King and was endeavoring to kill Him, at the appointed time, in the councils of God, He officially presented Himself as King, in fulfillment of prophecy.

Lesson for May 18. Under the figure of a marriage, Jesus set forth the privileges and benefits of the kingdom. He used marriage, the highest ideal of love and friendship known to man, to show the benefits of the kingdom.

Lesson for May 25. In the Olivet discourse Jesus outlined the events in the world to take place in the interval between His crucifixion and His second coming. The parable of the ten virgins shows the right behavior of believers in this present age in view of the coming of the Lord.

Lesson for June 1. By talents is meant whatever faculties and powers one possesses as God's gifts, such as physical strength, reason, knowledge, speech, song, or money. All these should be employed so as to honor God who gave them. A reckoning time is coming when account shall be rendered for their use. This will be at Christ's second coming.

Lesson for June 8. Mary of Bethany, because of her keen apprehension, saw that the Lord's body would be broken and that His precious life would go out at a time when no one could lovingly minister to Him. She therefore anointed Him as against that dread day. When the disciples criticized her act, she was defended by Jesus.

Lesson for June 15. Jesus did not die as a martyr or as an example, but to make an atonement for man's sin. The supreme value of the lessons for the quarter centers in the cross. Teachers, it is not a matter of getting your children to learn the lessons of a great teacher, but to induce them to have faith in Christ's sacrificial death.

Lesson for June 22. The resurrection of Jesus demonstrated His Messiahship and deity. The command of Jesus to preach the gospel in all the world is backed by His resurrection power.

The Oil of Joy

Christianity wants nothing so much in the world as sunny people, and the old are hungrier for love than for bread, and the oil of joy is very cheap, and if you can help the poor on with the garment of praise, it will be better for them than blankets.—Henry Drummond.

A Moral Pivot

The Hindu professor of modern history in a South India college said to me: "My study of modern history has shown me that there is a Moral Pivot in the world today, and that the best life of both East and West is more and more revolving about that center—that Moral Pivoting is the person of Jesus Christ."—E. Stanley Jones.

ADMINISTRATION ON DEFENSIVE OVER NAVAL TREATY

WASHINGTON, June 28 (UP)—Tactics found by President Hoover to have been effective in dealing with the World War Veterans' Pension bill and adopted in answer to Congress' curtailment of the crime commission's powers are to be employed again, if necessary, in behalf of the London Naval Treaty.

Evidences of a dangerous delay in dealing with the treaty in the special session tentatively scheduled to begin July 7 will be the cue for Mr. Hoover to appeal to the people. Persons close to the administration are aware the president considers speedy ratification essential both with respect to foreign policy and domestic affairs.

The president already has had three of the London conference delegates speak over the radio to crystallize popular opinion in behalf of the instrument. Secretary of State Stimson's radio address is being distributed now by mail throughout the United States. Senators Robinson, Dem. Ark., and Reed, Repn., Pa., have challenged the treaty foes, who have been represented on the air so far by Senators Johnson, Repn., Calif., McKellar, Dem., Tenn., and Robinson, Repn., Indiana.

The weekend found the administration momentarily on the defense in connection with publication of a letter written by assistant secretary of Navy Jahncke which was interpreted by some senators to mean matters relating to a league of nations army and navy were discussed.

FOLLOWS SCHEDULE

NEW YORK, June 28 (UP)—Following out a closely planned schedule New York continued today to bestow honors upon Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and his three companions of the trans-Atlantic monoplane, the Southern Cross.

From the time their powerful weather-beaten plane landed at Roosevelt field Thursday from Harbor Grace, Captain Kingsford-Smith and his crew have been guests at numerous functions which have left them plans except that they will leave time to themselves.

Little was known of their future Washington Monday where they will be received by President Hoover. Following this reception they will undoubtedly prepare their plane for the flight to San Francisco sometime later in the week.

Kingsford-Smith was the busier of the four. Shortly after 6 p. m. he talked to his fiancée, Miss Mac Powell at her home in Melbourne, Australia. Following this the captain went to Schenectady to broadcast to his native country. He was expected to return to New York today.

FLYER TALKS WITH MOTHER

KINGSFORD-SMITH CONVERSES BY RADIO WITH ANXIOUS MOTHER, 10,000 MILES OFF

PROMISES TO GIVE UP FLYING

Successful Trans-Atlantic And Pacific Aviator Tells Mother That He Will Respect Fiancee's Wish

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 28—(UP)—A mother's worry for a son's welfare made the chief topic of conversation when Major Charles E. Kingsford-Smith talked by radio with his mother in Australia today.

"Hello mother," the flyer said into the small microphone over WGY.

"I hope you won't fly any more oceans," his mother said.

"I can't. There aren't any more to fly, but I guess I'll have to give it up anyway," the flying major—who this week completed the first flight from Europe to the United States—replied, laughingly.

His mother added that he certainly would have to give up flying and the major more slowly replied that "Mary will have something to say about that." The Mary referred to was Miss Mary Powell, the major's fiancée.

Over the 10,000 miles of ether stretching between the Sydney station and the General Electric plant here, Kingsford-Smith's mother expressed the same concern for her illustrious son as would any mother greeting her son after a long journey.

"Are you well?" she asked.

"Oh Lord, yes," the flyer replied. "Your baby boy is alive and still kicking. I suppose when I get back you'll get me by the ears and give me a good spanking where it hurts most for being away so long."

Kingsford-Smith charged his mother with giving a greeting to Miss Powell and assured his family that he hoped to be home by the middle of August.

The flyer left by airplane for Teterboro, N. J., airport immediately after the broadcast.

POLICE SEEK IDENTITY OF TORCH VICTIM

FRANK MACIE, SUPPOSED VICTIM, IS STILL ALIVE ALTHOUGH MISSING

SCHROEDER AT PYRE SCENE

Police Seek Clearer Description Of Mystery And Circumstances Leading To It

INDIANAPOLIS, June 28 (UP)—Capital city police today sought new trails leading to the identity of the High School road torch victim, Frank Macie, 29, supposed victim of the auto pyre, was still alive although missing.

Gerald E. Cook, an insurance collector, and close friend of Macie, said he was positive he had talked with the man about a week after the 500-mile race which was held May 30. The torch murder occurred the night of May 30.

Cook said Macie had left Indianapolis on a "bumming" trip and intended to seek work in the western harvest fields. Macie was also described as weighing about 120 pounds while the torch victim must have weighed approximately 145 pounds.

This information was obtained at a time when Schroeder, who has been charged with murder and arson, was taken to the lonely place in the High School road, from which he fled twenty-nine days ago after setting fire to his car and the victim's body.

Accompanied by city and county officials in the charge of George L. Winkler, sheriff, he was driven to the road car its intersection with the Rockville road and there told to describe details of the burning.

It was intended to obtain a clearer story of the mystery, and also to force him to explain circumstances preceding the burning which may have not yet been revealed.

SLAYER OF PASTOR GIVES SELF UP TO AUTHORITIES

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 28 (UP)—Frank Ross, 37, who last night shot and killed the Rev. Edgar R. Wood, 37, and wounded his wife and another man, surrendered to police today.

"I'd been planning to kill four people for two months," he said, explaining that he considered his wife too friendly with the minister.

Ross said he had been practicing marksmanship to be certain not to miss. He shot Wood first, killing him instantly. Then he shot and seriously wounded Mrs. Mildred Ross, his estranged wife. Leonard Towe, 27, who tried to prevent Ross from leaving the church, was wounded in both legs.

Wood had just completed his evening sermon with the passage "in the midst of life, we are in death," when Ross, who was sitting unnoticed in the back row, walked up the aisle and fired his first shot. Wood fell dead.

Then Ross wheeled around and fired one shot at his wife. The bullet struck her just below the heart.

The small congregation was panic stricken. Most of the men covered behind the chairs. But Towe attempted to stop Ross as he started leaving the church. He was shot twice in the legs.

Ross and his wife, both in their late thirties, had been estranged for some time. They had quarreled violently on several occasions over church affiliations.

A POLL TAX FOR WOMEN IS PROPOSED

ONE MEANS OF RELIEVING THE TAX SITUATION IN STATE, G. O. P. EDITORS TOLD

WOMEN'S LEAGUE APPROVES

Republican Editorial Association In Gathering At Michigan City For Annual Outing

MICHIGAN CITY, June 28 (UP)—A poll tax for the woman of Indiana probably will be included among the recommendations drawn up by the tax survey committee for relieving the tax situation in the state, Arthur K. Remmill, editor of the Fort Wayne News-Sentinel and member of the committee, told the Republican Editorial Association gathered today for its annual summer outing.

Remmill's address, made at a meeting at the Long Beach country club, reviewed the history of the committee and outlined its work and its aims.

The meeting followed an automobile tour of Michigan City and the lake front resorts. Many of the editors spent the morning bathing and playing golf.

The afternoon program included a trip to Washington park on the lake front; exhibition by the coast guard crew, and a steamer ride on Lake Michigan. The two-day session will close tonight with a dinner and dance in Michigan City.

Remmill told the editors that the proposal for a poll tax for women met the approval of Mrs. Leona Teeter, of the Indiana League of Women Voters, the only woman member of the committee.

He summarized aims of the committee, which was appointed by Governor Harry G. Leslie to study taxation and report recommendations before the next legislature convenes, as follows:

1. To eliminate all property tax for state purposes.
2. To distribute taxation equally so as not to penalize any class of people, or any particular business or industry.

3. To provide a means whereby every citizen who has reached his or her majority may contribute directly to the support of the state government.

He stressed the fact that economy in government must prevail before any satisfactory form of taxation may be created.

Diverging from taxation, Remmill told the editors that she, personally was opposed to the calling of a constitutional convention at this time.

"I doubt very much whether the members of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association favor a constitutional convention," he said. "In my humble judgment a constitutional convention at this particular time would be most unwise and exceedingly dangerous. I believe we can accomplish all that we need to accomplish in the way of tax reform without the necessity of a constitutional convention."

In an address before the editors last night, Dr. Allen D. Albert, assistant to the President of the 1933 Chicago World's Fair, reviewed plans of the organizing committees for the Exposition.

Dr. Albert told the editors the theme of the Century of Progress was to be the "Service that Science has Rendered Humanity," and the aim was to show the development of civilization through the development of science.

The outline for the plans for the Exposition is based on the following points, he said:
The unfolding of science; science in industry; educational entertainment; presentation of developments in fine arts, and achievements in a structural design.

He hinted at great congresses of science, of representations of the progress of humanity through organized religion, of a music festival that will present scores of thousands of choristers and of programs of sports.

NOISY RADIO RESULTS

IN $5,000 DAMAGE SUIT

INDIANAPOLIS, June 28 (UP)—Eight neighbors collaborated to file suit in superior court today asking $5,000 damages and a restraining order against Mr. and Mrs. Grant R. Dazey, charging the couple played their radio at "unreasonable hours and with undue power and force."

Petitioners, including Fred H. Surface, Kerr Hollensbee, Harry Durfema and five other residents of the neighborhood, charged they have lost numerous tenants "who were unable to stand the undue noise and interference," and that consequently rental value of their property was depreciated.

The radio "would prevent these plaintiffs from going to sleep at nights and they were required to sit up until two or three o'clock in the morning until such time that the defendants would shut off their radio, thus enabling these plaintiffs to sleep," it is charged.

Vagrant Held By Police Here

MAN GIVING NAME AS RAYMOND INARD BELIEVED TO BE ESCAPED CONVICT

A vagrant picked up by night officers George Knauer and William Dittmore Friday night, as he sought to leave town on a Pennsylvania freight train, was taken to the Indiana state farm Saturday afternoon to have his Bertillon measurements taken. Local officers said his general description answered that of J. W. Wilson, 31, who escaped from a prison camp at Toledo, Iowa, on June 22.

Wilson, whose real name is R. W. Gladden, has a reward of $50 on his head, according to a circular at local police headquarters. Questioned by reporters Saturday afternoon the vagrant said his name was Raymond Inard and that his home was at Indiana Harbor. The man's hair is short-clipped and his body had scars similar to those on the circular, it was said.

Fingerprints and Bertillon measurements will determine whether he is Wilson or not, local officers said.

NE WT THEORIES ADVANCED IN LINGLE CASE

CHICAGO REPORTER OFFERED AS SACRIFICE TO OUST TWO POLICE OFFICIALS

LINGLE MAY HAVE FAILED "AL"

One Theory is That Newspaperman Was To Have "Fixed" Dog Racing For Capone

CHICAGO, June 28 (UP)—Two sensational theories were advanced today to explain the gang murder of Alfred J. Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter—an assassination whose ramifications have extended into public officialdom and into the underworld.

One of the theories was that Lingle was sacrificed by the Moran-Aiello northside gang of gamblers and liquor racketeers in order that the ensuing indignation would result in the ouster of police commissioner William F. Russell and Chief of Detectives John Stege, who had been "pushing the gang around." The other was that Lingle failed to "fix" dog racing for "Scarface" Al Capone.

Neither theory had the indorsement of the "clearing house" set up by combined law enforcement agencies to investigate the gang murder. In the investigation of Lingle's financial dealings with both public officials and gangsters, it became known that he never has filed an income tax return. That angle was revealed by Mrs. Myrtle Blackledge Tanner, collector of internal revenue. She did not indicate any action in the matter.

In working out the first theory, investigators pointed out that the police department had clamped a lid on gambling and liquor, the two chief sources of revenue for George "Bugs" Moran and Joe Aiello, the millionaire gang leader. The Capone mob apparently was getting off more lightly at the hands of the police, the investigators said, and the Morans may have blamed Lingle inasmuch as he was a personal friend of Russell.

By murdering him in a public place, the gangsters believed the resulting indignation would cause the ouster of Russell and Stege, according to the theory. The theory fits the facts in the murder and lays the crime at the doorstep of the northside gangsters, one of whom, James "Red" Forsythe, has been named as the killer by the "clearing house" investigators.

The other theory—that Lingle failed to "fix" the dog tracks for Capone—was almost opposite to the first. "Scarface" Al, enemy of Moran and Aiello, had about $1,000,000 invested in dog tracks that furnished much revenue to his gang. Through a long series of court actions they were forbidden to operate and the decision upheld in the state supreme court, which decided that pari-mutuel betting applied only to horse racing.

According to the theory it was Lingle's job to see that they ran. The kind of strategy investigation Lingle's financial dealings with several public officials and gamblers had promised a complete report will be made Monday, including transactions with Russell, Maj. Carlos Anes, head of the civil service commission; Alderman Bert Cronson and Capt. Dan Gilbert loop police officer.

VONCASTLE

A thrill awaits you at Voncastle Theater Sunday and Monday. This reviewer was pleasantly surprised and fascinated by that meteoric screen personality, Bebe Daniels, when she enacted her stirring role in "Rio Rita." Now this superlative songbird of the vocal screen shows her talents in another direction—as an eminently capable and distinguished dramatic actress in "Alias French Gertie," her third starring production for Radio Pictures.

This talented young lady who not many years ago was laughing through comedy high jinks on the silent screen shows herself to be a performer of rare power and cleverness. She plays with facility and builds her scenes to strong climaxes.

"Alias French Gertie" is a dramatic inside picture of the society "racket" as practiced by smooth-working "French" maids and their male accomplices. The man in the story is well played by Ben Lyon, who makes his first screen appearance opposite Miss Daniels in this film.

The talkie describes the adventures of Gertie, always scheming and planning successful coups on the rich with the aid of her accomplice; then suddenly realizing after he is caught and sentenced to a year in jail, that the price is too high for the rewards. She realizes her love for Jimmy Harrington, now languishing in jail, but when he is released she continues the racket because of his insistence. Eventually she prevails on him to quit, but he attempts one last job in defiance of her entreaties which almost proved the undoing of both of them.

A well-cast talkie, this, produced under the capable direction of George Archambaud, and distinguished by supporting players of excellence. Among those who appear are Robert Emmett O'Connor, Betty Pierce, John Ince and Daisy Belmont.

Its greatest feature is the triumph of Bebe Daniels as a noteworthy actress well capable of giving as fine a dramatic performance as the talkies may ask. A Charley Chase All-Talk comedy and Paramount Sound News also plays at the Voncastle Sunday and Monday.

Today Buck Jones in "The Lone Rider," all-talk Western, "Voice From the Sky" serial and talking cartoon play tonight for the last time.

CHAPTER I

"Devil-May-Care they called the young saboteur as he glared at Napoleon's colors in the Old Guard. And Devil May Care were the methods he used to win and win the Royalist maiden who hated Bonaparte's followers. Skirmishes, duels and a wild escape through the night squad, culminated this romantic love-story of Napoleon's time. You will admire Armand de Treville, the young lieutenant, you will adore the pretty Leonie de Beauport, the aristocratic maiden who struggles against her love for the Napoleon soldier and you will feel pity and tenderness for the Countess Louise, whom love and passion made 'Devil May Care' based on the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture starring Ramon Novarro as Armand de Treville and Dorothy Jordan as the pretty Leonie. It will be published serially in this newspaper for the next few weeks. Do not fail to read it. It is the newest, tenderest romance of the year.

buke. Then the Emperor's face softened again and with a little smile he turned away without a reply. Shaking his head a little he walked briskly off to where his carriage was waiting for him. As Marshal Ney helped him into the coach, Napoleon pressed his arm in farewell. A footman slammed the door. As the carriage got under way, Violette, the gigantic first-sergeant of the first company pumped forward, brandishing his musket, and yelled: "Vive L'Empereur!" The staff, drawing back to let Napoleon's coach pass, were the first to take up the cry. "Vive L'Empereur!" they shouted, flashing their sabres in the air. Behind them the straight ranks of the Old Guard came to life with a mighty cheer as shakes and muskets were lifted high in wild enthusiasm. "Vive L'Empereur!" Napoleon was touched. He lifted his hat and bowed slightly, shouting: "Vive La France!" The carriage rolled out of the courtyard gate. Immediately the grenadiers broke ranks and rushed forward to get a final glimpse of Darrot said earnestly to Armand. "You love your Emperor, don't you?" It seemed to Armand that Darrot hung upon his answer with eagerness. Unhesitatingly, Armand answered. "No one loves the Emperor more than I do, and I would give my life to see him restored to power." "Bravo!" Darrot exclaimed. "But would you take an oath to do all that you could to restore him to power, and at the same time pledge yourself to secrecy?" "Name the oath," Armand answered. "Swear to me by the flag that you still have in your hand." Holding the silken folds of the Old Guard's colors against his cheek, Armand said, "I swear by this flag that I will live only to aid the Emperor return to power." "Bravo! Spoken truly, like a Gascon should speak," Armand answered. The older man said, twisting his fierce, unpunctuated moustache with one hand while he put his other arm about the younger Gascon's shoulders. "But why have you asked me to give you this oath?" Armand asked, as the other men of the group of officers from whom Darrot had de-their beloved Emperor. But, appalled by the realization that Napoleon was leaving them forever, they kept silence. Nothing could be heard but the hoofs of the horses and the rumble of the wheels as his coach took Napoleon off to Elba. The saboteur Armand de Treville. He felt that the Old Guard should be as high spirited in their grief and defeat as they had ever been in victory. Flourishing the regimental colors in a grand, upward swing, he shouted: "Alas! Men! Infants! the song of the Old Guard!"

A drummer in the second company, more intelligent than his fellows, caught the idea at once, and began to drum out the tune of the Old Guard's marching song. Others took it up and in a moment every drum was throbbing, every life thrilling out to the music of the song. The all sang and a mighty surge of song heartened the Emperor as he went out of sight of the Old Guard and the palace of Fontainebleau.

From far away he could still hear them singing: "The Old Guard so steady, The Old Guard is ready— As distance finally softened the sound of their singing to a mere hum in the distance, Napoleon remembered Armand and his prophecy. "It may so happen," he thought to himself, "that I may return. Perhaps Metternich, the old fox, will make an alliance brawl of the Congress at Vienna. Then, perhaps, I may return."

For a time Napoleon hummed the melody of the Old Guard's song, unconscious of the fact that already the song had faded away in the distance. He came out of his reverie as he saw that the singing was only in his memory and that the actual sounds around him were the clatter of hoofs and the jangle of his escort's sabres. Wrapping his grey cloak about him, Napoleon sank back into a corner of his carriage.

Armand, who, singing all the time, had stood in the roadway, straining his eyes for a last glimpse of the coach that was carrying Napoleon away, turned about when it was at last out of sight and only then discovered that for the past five minutes he had been singing alone. A cold rain was beginning to fall and the gray of early dusk began to settle over the September countryside. He felt suddenly cold and alone. The courtyard was almost deserted. The grenadiers of the Old Guard had been ordered back to barracks, and only a sentry and a few officers were now in the courtyard. A small group of his comrades stood in the very center of the courtyard, talking together excitedly in whispers.

Hoping that they would revive his spirits, Armand walked toward them. As he approached they ceased speaking and all of them turned to look at him. Finally, one of the men, Capt. Roger Darrot, who came from the same part of Gascony as Armand, approached him.

Trenchery is about, and helped too. Read to-morrow of how Napoleon is cured on the high road.

BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL SURVEY REPORT IS MADE

INDIANAPOLIS, June 28 (UP)—Start of construction of a new factory unit for the Warner Gear Company of Muncie in which from 500 to 600 men will be employed, was the outstanding development in Indiana business and industry for the week ending today.

The new unit will be capable of producing 2,000 automobile transmissions when operating at capacity. More than 100 men are already engaged in the construction, and on completion of the plant within the next few weeks, production will be started.

Wildie L. Maitlen will establish a plant at Muncie for manufacture of light ornamental and structural iron. A permit for erection of a $1,200 building has been obtained.

The Shawnee Stone Company of Bloomington has obtained one of the largest cut stone contracts so far this year. It calls for 450 car loads to be used in construction of an office building for the Gulf Refining Company in Pittsburgh, Pa. The stone to be used is carrara two-tone stone, produced only by the Shawnee Company. The order will assure the company's employees steady work for several months.

Temporary relief from some unemployment in Kokomo will result from a month's work for 600 men in grinding and polishing department and warehouse of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company. However, it is announced that with completion of the work, the plant will go back to a status of a shutdown for an indefinite period.

Consolidation of two Kokomo industries, the Kingston Products Company and the Kokomo Stamped Metal Company, will become effective Tuesday. Toys and commercial stampings, products of the latter are to be exploited on a larger scale as a result of the merger, officials announce.

Another merger affecting Kokomo is that of the Riess Manufacturing Company in that city, and the Master Electric Company, Dayton, O. It is announced that several lines will be added to the production of the Kokomo company as a result of the consolidation.

Elwood's tinplate industry will be on steady operation basis throughout the summer as a result of heavy demands from canning companies. The industry is running on a basis of 85 to 90 per cent normal. Considerable remodeling work will be done in the G. I. Sellers Kitchen Cabinet Company plant during a vacation shutdown which will end July 5.

Equipment of the Monticello Manufacturing Corporation has been moved to Elwood from Monticello and it is planned to begin operations within a few days.

The Eureka-Indiana Oil and Gas Company, which holds leases on 12,000 acres of Harrison County land, plans considerable activity in drilling. Conditions in various Indiana cities are shown in the following summary:

Richmond—The Miller Brothers Hardware Company and John J. Harrington, Inc., the city's wholesale hardware and accessories concerns will be merged Tuesday. Officials announced that it is planned to increase the merchandise stock with the aim of building up one of the largest concerns of the kind in the central states.

Winchester—Issues of bonds for road building in Randolph county, a total of $11,510 including premiums, have been sold to the Merchants National Bank of Muncie.

Danville—A new industry here is the Danville Chair Company composed of Ray Redifer and Frank Trotter, producing a new type of lawn chair designed by Redifer.

Ft. Wayne—As a result of Federal court approval of a creditor's composition, the plant of the Steinkamp Manufacturing Company, radio makers, will continue operations under its own officials, and the receiver, Jesse Eschback, will be discharged.

Wabash—After being idle since in April, the United Strawboard Mill has resumed operations with about 200 men on the payroll. Fifty more will probably be added within a few days. During the shutdown an extensive improvement program was carried out, including much new machinery.

Terre Haute—Employment conditions here have improved in several quarters. A force of 80 men is working in erecting a plant for the American Can Company. Several are working on construction of a laundry at the Quaker Maid Plant, and the force of Pennsylvania Railroad is to be doubled. Shops of the Pennsylvania have re-employed men dismissed several weeks ago.

North Anderson—The Indiana Bell Telephone Company plans an early start on a $60,000 expansion program here.

Yorktown—Much interest is manifested here in the result of plans of Daniel Cox, a pioneer in the rock wool industry, to establish a plant.

Westville—The town board has let a contract for installation of a $25,000 water system.

South Bend—Removal of the McKenzie Manufacturing Company here from LaCrosse, Wis., to become a unit of the Oliver Farm Equipment Company, is set for July.

Elkhart—Negotiations have been completed for merger here of the Elcar Motor Company and the Lever Motors Corporation, and the Lever offices will be moved here from Oak Park, Ill., and its plant from Quinaw, Okla. The Elcar company is now engaged in manufacturing taxicabs, on an order optional for 500 to 1,500 units.

Washington—Passenger and freight car departments of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad shops here will be closed from Tuesday to July 21, causing loss of employment for 250 men.

Jeffersonville—The William Lamm Jones, a $300,000 towboat built at the yards here of the Howard Shipyard and Dock Company for the Vestal Coal Company, Pittsburgh, has been given a trial on the Ohio river.

Evansville—Construction of a five-car terminal, started here four years ago, is to be carried to completion within 60 days, it is announced by E. Meade Johnson, Sr., who has purchased the terminal site from the Wheeling Barge Line company, Wheeling, W. Va. It adjoins river front property he already owned. The project will represent an estimated investment of $400,000.
